

-----Original Message-----

Sent: Tuesday, January 23, 2007 4:24 PM

Lindsay,

I just wanted to drop you a note about how much I appreciate your help. I have learned a great deal, and you have been very helpful in answering my questions. I have been a little nervous about this whole process, because I have been through it before, but you have been very helpful in keeping me calm, informed, and educated throughout the process.

I received my first complete set-up quote today, and I'm awaiting 2 others. I'm hopeful I can make the 2/19 offline date. I'm going down to the planning department today, to verify where we're at.

If you could get me the height of the home, I will be able to get another quote. I also need the name of the company who quoted $9k for delivery.

Thanks,
Johnny